DANGER OF STRIKE.

Chicago Street Railwaymen May Yet Go Out.

Men Determined to Organize a Local Branch of the Union—Aid of Injunction May be Invoked.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The danger of a tie up of the lines of the City Railway company is not over yet. A mass meeting of street car employes was held early today at Sixty-third and Halsted streets, and resolutions were unanimously adopted indorsing the organization of a local branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street Car Employes of America. The most important action taken, however, was the giving by secret ballot the power to the executive committee of the organization to order a strike without notice to the company. The plan of the executive committee to resent any further dismissal of employes was then ratified, and future action was referred to that committee.

It was decided to notify Superintendent Bowen, of the Chicago City Railway company, that the cars of the company on the south side are now run by union men and that an injury to one is the concern of all.

It is stated that of the 4,000 employes of the Chicago City railway, not more than 800 have so far affiliated themselves with the union.

On behalf of the men it is officially denied that a strike Sunday was decided upon, or that a strike under present circumstances is contemplated. At the suggestion of E. V. Debs, the aid of the court injunctions will probably be invoked by the union. The president of the Social Democracy declares the first opportunity has come for labor to use the restraining order which has been the weapon of capital in the past. Interference with the formation or maintenance of a union of employes is forbidden by the Illinois statutes, and it is proposed to make a legal test with the street car company.

YELLOW JACK

Finds a New Field in the Town of McHenry.

The Number of Cases in Other Infected Cities Grows Gradually Larger, But Less Fatal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The official reports to Surgeon-General Wyman, of the marine hospital service regarding the progress of the yellow fever in the south show the following results yesterday:

New Orleans, twenty-four new cases; three deaths.

Edwards, Miss., twenty-nine new cases, no deaths.

Biloxi, Miss., twenty-four cases; one death.

Mobile, Ala., six new cases; one death.

McHenry, Miss., two new cases, no deaths.

Ocean Springs, no new cases and no deaths.

The cases reported at McHenry are the first discovered at that place.

The town is on the gulf coast and Dr. Wadin reports that the cases are strictly quarantined.

FOUND GOLD.

Mishawaka Excited by Discovery of Such Ore Under the Town.

MISHAWAKA, Ind., Oct. 1.—A decided sensation was created here yesterday, when it was announced in a guarded manner that the men engaged in laying a sewer line on Second street had unearthed a vein of gold.

Investigation developed the fact that a valuable find was actually made within the city limits. While engaged in blasting through a big bed of rock about twenty feet below the surface the workmen discovered small particles of ore which seemed of more than ordinary weight, and the contractor of the job at once secured the pieces.

A thorough examination by a practical goldsmith and assayer shows the portions of mineral to contain a large per cent. of copper and sufficient indications of gold to amply repay the work of mining the same and having it separated from the ore.

The force of men is now at work prosecuting the sewer work, and to a few trusted employes has been assigned the duty of following the comparatively small vein of valuable metal which may at any time terminate in the location of a rich gold or copper mine, though even at its present stage the vein is fully heavy enough to warrant the work of the contractors.

MRS. MARY MEYER.

An Old Resident Passes Away After a Long and Useful Life.

Mrs. Mary Meyer died at 8 o'clock last night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Lahman, 51 Madison avenue, of old age. She had been slowly sinking for some time. The deceased was born in Germany May 15, 1826, and came to Fort Wayne early in 1851. May 2 of the same year she was married, and had made her home in this city ever since. Her husband died in 1872. Three children survive her, Mrs. Henry Lahman, John H. Meyer, the well known contractor, and the Rev. E. R. C. Meyer, also of this city. Mrs. Meyer was a devoted member of the Salem Reformed church. The funeral will take place from the home, 51 Madison avenue, Sunday at 1:30 o'clock and at 2 o'clock from Salem Reformed church. The pall bearers will be H. Stoll, H. Bremer, Geo. Fisher, William Shafer, Andy Vogely, J. Swabe.

A REAL SCORCHER.

Frank McLeish Appears in a New Role.

While Riding His Bicycle Smoke Issues From His Coat Collar and Pedestrians Are Amazed.

Frank McLeish, of the Fruit House, had an exciting experience today, while riding his bicycle homeward. He had been smoking and just before starting, he shook out the contents of the pipe bowl, at least he thought he did. A few sparks remained and as Frank's coat tails caught the wind these mischievous sparks kindled a little flame. Smoke began pouring out of the rider's coat collar at a great rate and pedestrians gazed with awe upon the flying rider and took it for granted that a genuine "scorcher" had been discovered in Fort Wayne. When near the corner of Wayne and Barr street a sheet of flame wrapped itself about him and the funny side of the situation was gone. Mr. McLeish quickly dismounted and threw off his coat, thus escaping injury. The garment was ruined.

THE END OF IT.

Ripley County Grand Jury to Ignore the Lynching.

Judge New says the Incident is Closed Because the Grand Jury Could Learn Nothing.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—Williard New, judge of the circuit court of Ripley county, who was here yesterday, says that if the governor and attorney general are doing anything toward securing indictments against the men who participated in the Versailles lynching he does not know of it. The judge spent five hours in the city without calling on the governor or attorney general. He declares that the "lynching incident is closed."

"The grand jury, I believe, made a thorough and conscientious investigation," said he. "It failed to find indictments, and has been discharged. I am unable to see what more can be done. The day after the lynching I instructed the jury to make a full investigation and to spare no effort to secure evidence on which the lynchers could be indicted. It examined 106 witnesses without being able to identify any of the lynchers. Before discharging the jurors I asked them if it was possible to obtain additional information. They said no, and so the jury was discharged."

The judge says he will not call the jury together again, as he cannot see how it will be possible for it to accomplish anything. The neglect of the judge to call on the governor and attorney general has led to the belief that he is offended because the state officers have superseded him in conducting an inquiry.

IT WAS GREAT.

Monroeville Silver Rally an Immense Success.

Five Thousand People Listened to Speeches by Eloquent Statesmen and the Enthusiasm Was Thrilling.

Silver men of Allen county are feeling jubilant over the success of the big free silver picnic held yesterday at Monroeville. The crowd exceeded all reasonable expectation and conservative estimates of the number in attendance place the crowd at from 5,000 to 7,000. Others have been willing to hazard figures as high as 10,000, but the best judgment seems to be from 5,000 to 6,000.

Whatever the exact but unknown figures may be is of no consequence. It was big and enthusiastic crowd and was the source of some surprise to democrats who hardly believed it possible to interest so many people actively in a meeting so far away from campaign times, and it carried consternation to republicans and other goldites who have been loudly proclaiming and fondly hoping that free silver was dead.

Farmers from all over that section flocked to Monroeville, and hundreds of teams and vehicles were quartered about the pretty grove where the meeting was held. Judge Walpole G. Colerick presided at the meeting and put the oratory under way in a brief but eloquent and felicitous speech. Judge Edward O'Rourke followed with a short speech as did Mr. O. P. Eversole and Hon. Henry Colerick. This concluded the speaking until after the barbecue. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Judge Colerick introduced Gen. A. J. Warner, president of the National Bimetallic union, with whom Judge Colerick served in congress. General Warner's speech was a powerful presentation of the bimetallic cause and had much effect. When General Warner had concluded Judge Colerick read a speech from Judge C. M. Dawson, whose presence was prevented by important business matters in court. The measure expressed hearty sympathy with the meeting. Former Governor Claude Matthews was the next speaker and aroused great enthusiasm in a strong and eloquent speech. Congressman James M. Robinson delivered a ringing speech that stirred the great crowd of democrats to the depths.

The great day closed with the reading of an original poem by Dr. E. M. Robinson, the "silver poet" of Michigan, formerly of Monroeville.

The entire affair was a tremendous success, was managed with conspicuous ability and will do much to keep up the work for the cause of bimetallism in Allen county.

SILVER WIRE.

Thirty Feet of It Coiled Near a Californian's Heart.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 1.—One does not often meet in the course of a lifetime with a man whose existence depends upon thirty feet of silver wire, which rests in a snug coil above the aorta, half an inch from his throbbing heart. Yet there is such a man in San Francisco and he is Adrian De Hertoghe, a Belgian machinist.

De Hertoghe was afflicted with aneurism of the aorta, or encysted tumor of the arterial canal. The injury to the artery was the result of a frightful strain.

The physicians put in the wire as a forlorn hope three weeks ago and De Hertoghe is a well man.

WILL RESUME WORK.

One Thousand Men Will be Employed by the Pottsville Steel Company.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 1.—The Pottsville Iron and steel company, which went into receivers' hands several months ago, has formulated plans of re-organization, by which the plant may resume and give employment to the 1,000 hands. It is proposed to issue first mortgage bonds amounting to $350,000, with which to rehabilitate the mill and for a working capital. The preferred creditors will accept second mortgage bonds to satisfy their claims of about $150,000, and the unpreferred creditors will be given $450,000 in preferred stock.

BOLD HOLD UP.

Stage Coach Passengers Shot by Road Agents.

Bandits Stop the Coach Near Milton, Cal., and One Man is Perhaps Fatally Hurt in Shooting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Five of the passengers of the stage coach which was robbed near Milton yesterday have arrived in this city. They are Clarence M. Ackerman, A. Maloff, Manuel Nizzolla, Moses A. Abrahams and M. Singer. Two of them, Ackerman and Maloff, were wounded.

Ackerman is at St. Luke's hospital with a bullet lodged immediately under the cuticle of his left breast. The seriousness of his wound has not been definitely determined, but it is the belief of Dr. Gray, the resident physician of the hospital, that he will not die. The same bullet which cut a hole through Maloff's left wrist, ploughed its way almost clean through the body of Ackerman. There is a possibility, Dr. Gray says, that instead of traversing a straight course, the bullet struck one of Ackerman's ribs on the right side, deflected and passed around his body at the back until its force became spent an inch below the left nipple. The robbers got little booty.

BIG MARSH FIRE.

Farmers Compelled to Fight for Their Homes in the Kankakee.

NEW CARLISLE, Ind., Oct. 1.—A disastrous fire is prevailing in the Kankakee marsh, east of this city. The flames seem to consume the very earth and are causing farmers to work day and night to save their property. Every night and morning a dense cloud of smoke rises over the city and the smell of the burning peat is very oppressive. Many tons of hay have been burned, and the farmers are now fighting for their cornfields and buildings. Early yesterday morning a large stock barn on the farm of Edward Fack caught fire, and two houses, together with a large amount of hay, grain and implements, burned. Section men on the Vandalia road are trying to save the tracks, as the fire is undermining them. A large amount of property has been destroyed, and unless rain comes soon the loss will be enormous.

TAMMANY'S TICKET.

Judge VanWyck Nominated for Mayor of New York.

The Platform Ignores National Issues and Does Not Mention Bryan. The Machine Worked Smoothly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Last night the democratic city convention nominated the following named candidates for greater New York: For mayor, Robert A. Van Wyck; for comptroller, Bird S. Coler; for president of the council, Jacob Ruppert.

The ticket had been agreed upon by the Tammany executive committee before the convention, and the delegates simply ratified the choice of the leaders.

The platform makes no reference to the Chicago platform, William J. Bryan or free silver. It favors home rule and repeal of the Raines law and other restrictions on personal liberty, and demands dollar gas and, municipal ownership of franchises.

Unanimity and harmony marked the convention. On not one proposition was there a dissenting voice. But one issue was raised that ruffled the proceedings, and the man who presumed to raise the issue was ground beneath the smoothly running machinery.

He had hopes of nominating William A. Gaynor, but a point of order sealed his lips before the name of the magnetic Brooklynite was spoken.

When Robert A. Van Wyck was nominated the delegates cheered his name again and again. They made the great hall ring with shouts of approbation.

Robert A. Van Wyck, the candidate for mayor, was born in this city forty-nine years ago and his family has been here for two centuries. He was graduated from the New York law school in 1872, joined Tammany, left it to go into the county democracy, then went back to the old organization. He was elected to a justiceship in the city court in 1888. Now he is the presiding justice of the city court.

Bird S. Coler, the candidate for comptroller, is a Brooklyn banker. He is, it is reported, a free silver man and supported Bryan.

EVADE THE LAWS.

Hundreds of Chinamen Landed in San Francisco.

Given Free Entry Under the Guise of Merchants and Students, They Are Now at Work in the Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—About 400 Chinese laborers have been landed in this city during the last five months and have been given free entry in the guise of "merchants and students." They are now working in the orchards in various parts of the state, in the salmon canneries on the Columbia river and dozens of small Chinatown factories of various kinds. Yesterday forty-one of them were allowed to pass through the custom house and an additional hundred went into quarantine on Wednesday night from the steamer Doric and are expected to be released today. These laborers have nearly all come in on certificates issued in Macao, a dependency of Portugal, and which, under an opinion of the attorney general of the United States, delivered May 20, 1896, must be recognized as prima facie evidence of the right of their bearers to land. The opinion was in effect that the British registrar-general at Hong Kong, the commissioners of customs at Canton and the officer of any other foreign country possessing dependencies in China should be recognized as competent to sign such documents. No identification at this port is called for, and in short it seems as though a simple means has been found to successfully evade the Chinese restriction acts.

THE QUAIL LAW.

Statutory Restrictions That Have Been Imposed.

Amendments of the Last Legislature May Prevent the Sale of the Game and None Can be Shipped.

Indianapolis News: "The state officers, members of the legislature and other persons who are supposed to have the information, are in receipt of many letters from sportsmen in this state and in adjoining states, asking about the changes made by the last general assembly in the law regulating the killing of quails. The replies state that any person may, between the 10th day of November and the 1st day of January kill quails so long as he does not ship them out of the state. It is pointed out that the legislature of 1893 passed an act making it unlawful to kill quails between January 1 and November 10, and that the last legislature made this additional law:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to pursue or kill within this state any quail, ruffed grouse or pinnated grouse for purposes of sale, barter or traffic or removal from the state, or to sell, barter, keep, expose or offer for sale, or remove from this state any quail, ruffed grouse or pinnated grouse caught or killed in the state of Indiana." The penalty fixed is a fine of $1 for every quail, ruffed grouse or pinnated grouse so unlawfully pursued, killed, sold, kept, exposed or offered for sale, or removed from the state."

"It is recalled by persons who were about the general assembly that the men who asked the enactment of this law represented that many persons from Illinois were in the habit of crossing the Indiana line and killing quail by the wholesale for removal to the State of Illinois. There was especial complaint about the hunters who came down from Chicago and overran northern Indiana, and persons from southern Illinois who overran Knox and other counties. The framers of the new law hoped to keep these hunters out by making it unlawful to remove from the state quails killed within the state. Lawyers who have looked at the law say there is no doubt that it will serve the purpose for which it was enacted, and they are not certain but that it goes further and makes it unlawful to offer for sale within this state any quail killed within the state."

BACK SPRAINED.

Councilman Charles Haag Meets With an Accident.

While [illegible] He Falls and is Rendered Helpless for a Time—Dog Bites Little Arnel Aikens.

Councilman Charles Haag was overcome by dizziness while at work this morning and in falling he sprained his back. He was conveyed from the marble works of Brunner & Haag to Gocke's drug store, where Dr. H. V. Swerengen gave him treatment to ease the pain. Later Mr. Haag was conveyed in a carriage to his home on Van Buren street.

ATTACKED BY A DOG.

Arnel, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. J. Aikens, of Pontiac street, suffers from a dog bite. While returning home from school yesterday afternoon the canine attacked him and fastened its teeth in his left leg. The wound was cauterized.

TOOK A HEADER.

While riding his wheel to Monroeville yesterday Curtis Humfrey, a collector for Dr. Ladd, took a header and had one leg so badly sprained that he could not remount his machine. He was taken in a carriage to the end of his journey and came home on a train.

MORE SEWERS.

Board of Works Decides on a Completion of the Lakeside System—Other Business.

Last night the board of works decided upon a number of lateral sewers for Lakeside. A resolution was passed for the construction of a sewer in the alley between Edgewater and Columbia avenues, from the sewer on Tecumseh street to the St. Joe boulevard, and in the alley between Columbia and Lake avenues, from Tecumseh street to the St. Joe boulevard.

A petition was received from Charles Pape and others for a crock sewer on St. Mary's avenue, from High street to the Nickel Plate tracks. The engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications.

The clerk was instructed to order the officials of the Lake Erie and Western road to put up a light at the Wells street crossing.

The clerk was also instructed to order Contractor T. B. Empie to repair the pavement in the alley between Berry and Wayne, from Ewing to Griffith street; the pavement on Jefferson street, from Calhoun to Lafayette streets; the pavement on Hanna street, from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street.

GOOD WORK.

Services at Simpson M. E. Church This Week Have Been Fruitful.

Services have been held all this week at Simpson M. E. church. These meetings were held for the purpose of having the spiritual life of the church quickened after the summer vacation. Last night an old time love feast was conducted by Rev. Merkler. Many good evidences of the keeping power of God were seen and heard. The interest has increased until it is thought best to continue next week. This evening short talks will be given by Rev. Cooper, Rev. Stambaugh and others. During these meetings no "popular lectures" will be given.

A wedding that will interest a large number of friends of the contracting parties is that of Herman Strubel and Miss Clara T. Broward, both of whom resided in Bloomingdale. The ceremony was performed last Wednesday evening. Mr. Strubel is the enterprising Wells street meat dealer.

WARNER MEANS IT.

Will Be a Candidate to Succeed Mark Hanna.

The Great Silver Leader Made Known His Intention by Telegraph Yesterday From Monroeville.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—It is announced unofficially that John R. McLean has retired as the free silver democratic aspirant to the seat now held in the senate by Marcus A. Hanna.

Official and emphatic announcement has been made of the candidacy of Gen. A. J. Warner, of Marietta for the coming vacancy, if the silverites control the next legislature, whether Editor McLean remains in the field or not.

That he is in the field to stay is shown by the following dispatch received last night by a Cincinnati paper:

MONROEVILLE, Ind., Oct. 1.—Replying to your telegram, the republicans have designated Mr. Hanna as their candidate for the senate. The democrats have designated no one, but leave the selection of a senator to the legislature. Our first duty is to win our cause by electing the state ticket and the legislature. If we succeed I shall probably be a candidate for the senate.

A. J. WARNER.

General Warner was born in Erie county, New York, but has long been a resident of Ohio. He has represented his district in congress three times. He is a forcible speaker and has long been identified with the democratic party. He is also a G. A. R. man and is president of the American Bimetallic union. He was a prominent figure in the Ohio Valley Bimetallic league meeting which was held in Cincinnati last June.

TOO YOUNG TO WED.

A Pretty Would-be Bride Encounters a Sore Disappointment.

This afternoon a pretty blushing young lady and a manly prepossessing looking young man stood at the desk in the county clerk's office and looked with appealing helplessness at Deputy Clerk Bowler, who shook his head and said "the law won't permit me," while he made an erasure in the marriage record and closed the big book and put it away.

The couple were Richard DeWitt and Ethel Camerius, of Maysville, who came to Fort Wayne to get a license to wed and the ceremony was to have been performed this afternoon. The bride-elect is a pretty and rather small morsel of loveliness and she had hard work when she bravely tried to keep the tears back. She lacks a few days of being sixteen years old and the law does not permit the clerk to issue a license for her marriage. She has the consent of her parents, but she will have to postpone her nuptials a week or two.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

Temple Attractions for the Week—Renfrow's "Jolly Pathfinders."

Silver dropped a few pence and and then wheat shuffed off some. Can it be that the fractured link has been mended?

Now and then a faint rumor of David B. Hill escapes confinement, but Grover Cleveland persistently refuses to be heard from.

That Ripley county grand jury evidently has private communication with those best citizens who did the hanging at Versailles. Governor Mount should appreciate early that the chief responsibility is upon him.

Mark Hanna is slowly swinging round the circle in Ohio, doing some wonderful oratory with his checkbook and committing felonious assault on the English language with that same old speech, "How I Found McKinley and What I Done For Him."

There is no retreat of the silver forces in the east. The nomination of Geo. Fred Williams for the governorship of Massachusetts by the Bay state democrats and the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform means that the fight for bimetallism and restraint of monopoly is to be waged without fear or cessation. George Fred Williams is an ideal leader, moreover, and will manage his forces with skill and courage. His ability admits of no question and as a campaigner he is surpassed by no man in any party.

A year away from the last political campaign and an equal distance from the next, the gathering of the silver hosts at Monroeville yesterday was significant. There has been and there will be no wavering of the forces which rallied around William J. Bryan a year ago.

The late Ogden Goelet emulated the example of the late Jay Gould and did not set aside a dollar of his millions for public bequests. His will has just been filed for probate and discloses that his fortune was about $8,000,000—many millions below the popular estimate of his wealth.

The announced candidacy of Gen. A. J. Warner for the United States senatorship in Ohio presents a silver man of whose deep and abiding faith in the justice of his cause there can be no doubt. But General Warner's labors for bimetallism have been of a too non-partisan a character to make him strong with a democratic assembly.

The action of the Platt machine in forcing the nomination of a republican machine ticket in New York has practically settled the contest as a triumph for Tammany. Even the withdrawal of Seth Low, extremely improbable as that is, would mean no better prospect for the machine ticket. With 50,000 to 80,000 clear majority in Greater New York, the democrats have a rosy outlook whether the republican vote be divided or massed.

In going about, under cover of darkness, to destroy private property, the city council and executive officers of Decatur have set an example of anarchy that will, sooner or later, bear wretched fruit in their little city. The owner of a private electric lighting system in Decatur had been ordered by act of the city council to remove from the streets his lamps and poles. He had not fully complied with the order, and at a meeting Wednesday night the city council, by resolution, ordered the marshal and his officers to remove the objectionable property from the streets forthwith. At midnight the work was commenced and before daylight the poles were sawed down and the lamps and wiring wrecked. The city of Decatur surely has not elected to its law-making body an assembly of idiots and asses so crass and feeble they did not know the city's proper redress, if the streets were being occupied without franchise, was in the courts. The spectacle of the legislative and executive functionaries of an intelligent community proceeding stealthily, under cover of night, to lay waste to private property is one for the delectation and enlightenment of all men. Such lawlessness of officials will quickly be made the pretext of knaves and vandals who seek lawless ends.

Municipal Control.

Former President Benjamin Harrison is quoted in an interview on municipal politics in the New York World as saying:

"Of special importance are the safeguards to be thrown about the granting of franchises to the promoters of great schemes for the public service. In this respect there are valuable lessons to be learned from late foreign experiments. Some of the principal cities of Scotland have assumed such the control of its street railway systems and its lighting plants, as well as its waterworks. The results of this public ownership of great public enterprises have been exceedingly satisfactory and instructive. I am inclined to consider municipal ownership as the best means to secure to the people the cheapest and best service. Of course, the effects of competition between private enterprises are not to be lost sight of as far as they increase quality and lower prices. But the usual methods of selling franchises outright or in reserving for them a royalty seldom give to the people more that a tithe of what the people themselves later return. The bigger the price, the larger the royalty—the greater the cost of a ride or of a gas jet. It is a species of tax."

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

A stock company has been organized at Argos to prospect for oil.

Three big oil wells have just been drilled in at Peru and the excitement has again been heightened.

Two horses have been killed during the past week in Kosciusko county by corn-husking and shredding machines.

Lewis Bose, manager of the Exchange bank at Argos, will soon retire and will probably be succeeded by Frank Huffman, present cashier.

Peru officers are of the opinion that the parents of the babe found dying from laudanum poisoning in the depot yards are residents of that city.

The annual meeting of the Indiana and Ohio settlers at Bluffton this week was attended by several thousand persons. Large excursions were run from Ohio.

A damaging marsh fire is in progress in Green township, Marshall county, a few miles southwest of Plymouth. Eight or ten acres of timber have been burned and considerable corn in shock destroyed.

According to reports Hebron, Porter county, has not had a death within the corporate limits for two years. The town has a population of 700 and there are forty-five persons over the age of seventy-five years.

Harvey Stout, aged eighteen, is missing from his home between Albion and Kendallville. He disappeared September 11, since which time his mother has heard nothing from him. Friends believe he has started for the Klondike country.

The Peru city council has passed the ordinance reducing the natural gas rates one-third in that city, and the Diederich syndicate has notified the citizens that the company can not afford to accept an ordinance less favorable than the one now in force.

David Carnall is lying at the point of death at his home near Bluffton, the result of a blow on the head from a fist. Carnall was assaulted by a stranger named Dillon during a game of pool Saturday night and was struck just back of the ear. Dillon made his escape and is now a fugitive from the officers.

Fourteen-year-old Rebecca Ellsworth has been sent to the women's reformatory from Wells county by Judge Vaughn, before whom she had a hearing yesterday. The girl has been living with a man in Nottingham township. Harrison Lovell was sent to the penitentiary a year ago for living illicitly with the girl.

For two weeks a destructive forest and marsh fire has been raging in Eden township, western Lagrange county, and nearly 1,000 acres have been burned over and rendered useless. Some stock has been destroyed and a great deal of timber burned and fences eaten up by the flames. The loss will reach many thousands of dollars and the damage will continue until there is a rain.

BOSTON'S FLAG.

Team From the Hub Wins the Base Ball Pennant.

Boston's Victory Over Brooklyn and Baltimore's Defeat by Washington Decided the Great Contest.

The great race for the National league base ball championship is practically ended and the pennant of 1897 will fly next year from a Boston flagstaff.

The much coveted bunting was won yesterday afternoon by Captain Hugh Duffy's great team when they scalped the Brooklyns while the Washingtons were scattering Ned Hanlon's three-times champions from Baltimore town. Baltimore has yet two games to play and Boston one, but no results can now alter the standing of the clubs. Should Baltimore win both games and Boston lose, the Beaneaters would still have five points to the good.

Boston had no trouble winning from Brooklyn. Klobedanz was on the slab for the winners and was effective at all times. The hitting of the Bostons was terrific throughout the game and the result was never in doubt. On the other hand the Baltimores were "up against it" from the go. Win Mercer was the busy man for the Washingtons and the way he held Ned Hanlon's wonders down was distracting to the rooters who filled the Baltimore bleachers. The score:

Brooklyn . . . 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 0— 3
Boston . . . 0 5 2 1 0 2 1 0 1—12

Hits—Brooklyn, 7; Boston, 15. Errors—Brooklyn, 4; Boston, 0. Batteries—Dunn and Burrell; Klobedanz and Bergen.

Baltimore . . 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0— 3
Washington 2 0 1 2 4 0 0 0 0— 9

Hits—Baltimore, 9; Washington, 15. Errors—Baltimore, 6; Washington, 2. Batteries—Amole, Pond and Robinson; Mercer and McGuire.

New York . . . . 4 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 *— 6
Philadelphia 2 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0— 5

Hits—New York, 13; Philadelphia, 8. Errors—New York, 3; Philadelphia, 2. Batteries—Seymour, Zearfoss and Warner; Wheeler and Boyle.

WESTERN CUP SERIES.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 1.—About 1,500 people witnessed Indianapolis win the second game in the series between Indianapolis and Columbus yesterday. Both pitchers received brilliant support, the fielding of Mertes and Hogriever being the features of the game. McCarthy led in batting, making four safe hits out of as many times at bat. The score:

Columbus . . 3 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0— 5
Indianapolis . 5 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1— 7

Hits—Columbus, 12; Indianapolis, 12. Errors—Columbus, 5; Indianapolis, 1. Batteries—Evans and Buckley; Foreman and Wood.

HIGHEST SINCE 1886.

Boston Finishes With Good Percentage—Record of Twenty-Seven Years.

Boston will win the championship flag this year with the highest percentage of any league pennant winner since 1886, when Chicago finished ahead of Detroit with a percentage of .725. The Hub players have usually stood high in the race. In the old National association Boston finished first four times out of five and since the organization of the National league in 1876 has been victorious seven times, more often than any other club.

The western teams can derive no consolation from the all absorbing struggle of the Bostons and Baltimores. Three eastern aggregations stand at the top, the Cincinnatis being a poor fourth. Not since 1887 has the pennant graced a flag pole west of the Alleghanies. It was won by the Detroits that year. For the past seven years the two contenders of this season have monopolized first place. The champions since the league was organized in 1876 are as follows:

		Won.	Lost.	Per ct.
1876	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1877	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1878	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1879	Providence	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1880	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1881	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1882	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1883	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1884	Providence	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1885	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1886	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1887	Detroit	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1888	New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1889	New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1890	Brooklyn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1891	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1892	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1893	Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1894	Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1895	Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1896	Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

The season is now over so far as the championship is concerned and the remaining games will attract little interest. There is, however, another meeting this year between the conquered and the conquerors. The Temple cup series remains to be played. The Orioles will leave for Boston Sunday, the first game taking place Monday. It is not to be expected the games will be as interesting as those just ended, and the result can be hardly other than anticlimax.

BOSTON "FANS" ARE JUBILANT.

Boston, Oct. 1.—The "fans" went wild last night when they heard that Boston had won in Brooklyn, and a little later the news that Baltimore had lost to Washington made some of them stand on their heads down in newspaper row, where they had gathered to watch the bulletin boards. That settled the championship, and to a man everyone in Boston was delighted.

LOCAL CUP SERIES.

On Sunday, October 10, the Shamrocks and the Spy Runs of the Robison park league will begin championship cup series to consist of three games. The park series closed with these two strong teams tied for first honors. Last Sunday the tie was played off and won by the Spy Runs. The cup series will be played for the gate receipts and will be about as warm a base ball exhibition as has been seen here this season.

NEW MEN FOR CLEVELAND.

M. S. Robison, who has just returned to the city from Toledo, confirms the telegraphed reports that he has concluded a deal with Manager Strobel for the purchase of five of the Toledo Inter-State players for the Cleveland National league team. The players purchased are Pitchers John Blue and George Keib, Second Baseman Erve Beck, First Baseman Bade Myers and Outfielder Bob Gilks. Today Mr. Robison received word by wire that Shortstop Esterquest, of the Rockford team in the Western association, had been signed for Cleveland. Esterquest was with the Fort Wayne team last year and finished the season here after good work. He has been playing a wonderful game and his batting this year is remarkable. Since July 1st he has batted .415 and since August 1st .470.

Mr. Robison stated that the purpose of procuring so much new material was to strengthen the Cleveland in places needed and to provide for accidents and other emergencies. He denied that Strobel had been offered the management of the Cleveland team.

One of Mrs. Pinkham's Talks

Concerning a Mother's Duty to Her Young Daughter. Together with a Chat with Miss Marie Johnson.

The balance wheel of a woman's life is menstruation. On the proper performance of this function depends her health.

Irregularity lays the foundation of many diseases, and is in itself symptom of disease. It is of the greatest importance that regularity be accomplished as soon as possible after the flow is an established fact.

Disturbance of the menstrual function poisons the blood. In young girls suppression develops latent inherited tendencies to scrofula or consumption, and no time must be lost in restoring regularity. Many a young girl goes to her grave because this difficulty has been thought lightly of, and mother has said, "Time will bring about a cure; she is young, I don't worry about her."

Mother, when you see your daughter languid and indifferent to things that usually interest a young girl, when you note that flush on her cheek, that glassy appearance in her eyes; when your daughter tells you that even the weight of her dress waist oppresses her, and that she has terrible pains in her stomach shortly after eating, don't ignore those signs! If you do, you will be following your daughter to the grave, for she will die!

This is gospel truth—she is developing consumption of the bowels!

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest regulator known to medicine. Make haste to use it on the first appearance of the tell-tale symptoms; it will restore all the female organs to their normal condition. Miss Marie Johnson's letter to Mrs. Pinkham, which follows, should interest all mothers and young ladies. She says:

"My health became so poor that I had to leave school. I was tired all the time, and had dreadful pains in my side and back. I would have the headache so badly that everything would appear black before my eyes, and I could not go on with my studies. I was also troubled with irregularity of menses. I was very weak, and lost so much flesh that my friends became alarmed. My mother, who is a firm believer in your remedies from experience, thought perhaps they might benefit me, and wrote you for advice. I followed the advice you gave, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as you directed, and am now as well as I ever was. I have gained flesh and have a good color. I am completely cured of irregularity. Words cannot express my gratitude, and I cannot thank you enough for your kind advice and medicine."—Miss Marie F. Johnson, Centralia, Pa.

WILL SHAKE 'EM UP

Comptroller Bergboff Will File Affidavits.

Tomorrow Morning the Vehicle Ordinance Violators Will Open Long Roll of Delinquents.

Comptroller Bergboff stated this afternoon that he would file twenty affidavits tomorrow morning against delinquents who have failed to get tags in compliance with the vehicle ordinance. These names are taken from a list containing over four hundred names of persons who have been reported by the policemen as not having tags. This list has been worked on a couple of weeks. The affidavits will be filed before Mayor Scherer. It is thought that the conviction of these twenty persons will prove a warning to others. Comptroller Bergboff says that he will enforce the vehicle tax at all hazards, so long as it is a city law. If he does not receive the proper support in his undertaking, he will go before the council and urge its repeal.

It is now time for the Allen County Cyclists' association to act. That organization has threatened to contest the constitutionality of the law upon the first attempt of the city to enforce it. If they keep their word the festivities will open tomorrow in great shape.

DOG WENT MAD.

Denizens of Hoffman Street Receive a Fright.

Canine Runs at Large Several Hours With the Symptoms of Rabies—Officer Pagster Uses His Gun.

Hoffman street residents had a genuine scare this morning. For two hours the people from one end of the thoroughfare to the other found safety within their doors, while pedestrians were cautioned to give the locality a wide berth. About 10 o'clock a large Newfoundland dog belonging to a family named Henning exhibited signs of madness by frothing at the mouth and attempting to bite anybody or anything that came in its path. It was clearly a case of rabies. One lady, whose name could not be learned, was attacked by the brute, but she escaped its fangs which caught in her skirt and ripped the garment partly off of her. Officer Pagster was notified and he soon located the dog. He used his revolver with good effect, killing the savage animal with one shot.

WILL INVESTIGATE.

The Mayors Take Action on Important Matters.

Will Look Into the Proposition of Municipal Ownership of Water, Gas and Electric Lighting Works.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 1.—The League of American Municipalities redeemed itself this morning to some extent from the effects of its questionable action of yesterday afternoon by passing the following resolutions by Hon. Albert J. Boardman, of Tampa, Fla.:

Whereas, This national conference of mayors and members of city councils has been informed that the United States department of labor has undertaken an investigation of water, gas and electric lighting works, and a clear outline of the methods, form and purposes of this investigation has been given by Mr. Allen Ripley Foote, in a paper read before this conference, and,

Whereas, The Hon. Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, has announced that the object of this investigation is to enable municipalities and the citizens thereof to determine whether there is any economic advantage to consumers in the municipal ownership and operation of water, gas and electric lighting works; and

Whereas, Such an investigation by the expert and impartial authority of the United States department of labor, which can reach every municipality in the United States, is sorely needed and will have a vital and far reaching influence in correctly guiding public policy on this question of paramount importance to municipalities; be it therefore

Resolved, That this conference cordially approves of the investigation as set forth in Mr. Foote's paper, to be made for the purpose stated by the Hon. Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor.

Resolved, That the delegates to this conference tender to the United States department of labor and to its duly accredited agents their co-operation in every practical way, to facilitate this investigation in their respective municipalities and to make the information collected complete and accurate.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that the executive and legislative officers of all municipalities and the managers of all public service corporations should promptly and cordially do whatever may become necessary on their part to expedite the work of this investigation, to the end that through it statistics may be secured that will be accepted by all persons as reliable basis for comparisons.

Boardman supported the resolution in a forcible speech on the necessity of getting more light on this important subject, and Mayor Moore, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Mayor Green, of Binghampton, N. Y., followed him with convincing arguments in the same tone.

Papers were read at the morning session on the filtration of water by Engineer Weston, of Providence, R. I., and on "The Conservation of Sanitary Sewers," by Alexander Potter, of New York. The customary resolutions of thanks were also passed.

THE MARKETS.

GRANT COULDN'T TELL HIM.

One Thing About Which the Great General Knew Little.

The late General La Fayette McLaws enjoyed an intimate friendship with Grant, both as general and president. They were students together at West Point, and it was there the friendship that ripened in later years was first begun. McLaws as a soldier fought Indians in the west in many campaigns. He was on the frontier under Taylor during the Mexican war. When the civil war broke out, he cast his lot with the Confederate cause, and finally attained command of a division under General Longstreet. During the four years of strife Grant never forgot his friend. Likewise McLaws cherished the friendship for the Federal general.

When General Grant was elected president, the friends of McLaws urged him to apply for the Savannah postoffice. The Confederate general hesitated for a time, feeling that by doing so he would incur the censure of southerners. Like Grant, however, he was broad minded and had accepted the result of the war like a soldier and a true type of an American citizen. He thereupon decided to make the application for the office and took the train north to see Grant in person. The president had left Washington for Long Branch. Going there, McLaws sought him at his cottage. He had some misgivings as to how the president would receive him. They had not met in years. McLaws wondered if the accession to the high office of the nation had "swelled" Grant's head. Approaching the cottage, the Confederate general found the president sitting on the veranda, with his feet upon the balustrade, smoking one of those cigars which finally helped to end his life. Like all other presidents, Grant had left Washington to avoid the office seeking pest, and he did not want to be disturbed in his retreat.

"Hello, Mac! Where did you come from?" was the greeting that the president gave the Georgian as he drew near enough for recognition.

"I am truly glad to see you. I came over here to escape the office seekers. Pull up a chair and tell me how you have been getting along and all about yourself since we last met," Grant continued, with that warm, pleasant and affable air characteristic of him.

The greeting was so cordial, despite the remark about the office seekers, that General McLaws finally found it an easy thing to bring up the Savannah postoffice matter and announced his candidacy for the appointment. General Grant assured him that he should have it and that it would give him a great pleasure to make the appointment. Then they talked about their life at West Point and reviewed their experiences covering the years up to that time.

In some respects they were alike. Neither had the faculty for accumulating and saving money. General McLaws confessed that he did not have it and addressed the question seriously to the president:

"Can you tell me, general, how to make and save money?"

"My dear Mac, I have not the slightest idea in the world," replied Grant.

It was true, for Grant never could save money. He had no business instinct. Before the war he had as hard a struggle as any man in the country, and even after he left the presidency he was an easy victim for schemers, who used him in swindling schemes which he thought honest until their dishonesty was exposed.

When General McLaws returned to Savannah, he received the appointment as postmaster, and the friendship between the two lasted until death.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Ivory on the Congo.

Before the arrival of the Arabs ivory had no value. The natives often did not store it. Having killed an elephant, they took only the meat, and when the Arabs came and, pointing to the ivory, wished to buy the natives hunted about in the woods for ivory of elephants dead a long time, and big points were sold for a handful of beads or a copper or brass ornament. Kibonge was the first to settle after Stanley's passage. He is said to have bought immense stores of ivory, but all seem to have spent all they had. All the natives along here joined Tippu Tib on his way to Stanley falls to establish himself, and they fought and took part in raids for him.—Journal of Late E. J. Glave in Century.

The Descent of Rivers.

Generally speaking, the slope of the beds of rivers flowing into the Mississippi from the east is, on the average, about 3 inches per mile. Those entering it from the west have an average descent of about 6 inches per mile. The average descent per mile of the Missouri after it leaves the mountains is reckoned about a foot; the Des Moines from its source to its conjunction with the Mississippi, about 7.3 inches. The entire length of the Ohio shows a fall of even 5 inches. The Mississippi from the mouth of the Ohio to the gulf has a fall of about 2¼ inches.—Ohio State Journal.

Names For Girls.

I used to know an Englishman who had a fancy for short names, made up chiefly of vowels. He lived in Portugal and gave to his six daughters the names of Ava, Eva, Iva, Ova, Uva and [illegible]. Poor Ova used to be dreadfully teased by some English cousins and had her name declined in all sorts of dreadful ways, to her great mortification. She was a "bad egg" when they were displeased with her or an "addled egg" when she blundered and sometimes a "freckled egg." Her father never suffered her to call herself by her second name of Maria.—London Truth.

The Bovelanders of Guiana.

There is in Guiana a class of inhabitants who dwell along the central and lower reaches of the great rivers, although they penetrate to considerable distances into the interior and have, in fact, made the whole region between the Essequibo and Orinoco their own. These are the "Bovelanders," a half breed race descended from the intermarriage of the old Dutch settlers with the aboriginal women. There are also black Bovelanders, who are descended from the admixture of Indians with the runaway negroes who fled to the wilderness in the days of slavery. In color the Bovelanders of Dutch extraction are of a light brown yellow, somewhat fairer than mulattoes and having a strong European cast of countenance. They are well formed and generally good looking. Those of negro strain are of a dirty reddish black, somewhat flat featured and ugly. In habit and manner the white are tidy, clean, pleasant and attractive; the black slovenly, foul, sycophantic and repulsive. Their language is English, but so full of Indian and Dutch idioms and variations as to be something of a Volapuk.—Chambers' Journal.

"IF WE WOULD."

If we would but check the speaker
 When he spoils his neighbor's fame,
If we would but help the erring
 Ere we utter words of blame,
If we would, how many might we
 Turn from paths of sin and shame.

Ah, the wrongs that might be righted
 If we would but see the way!
Ah, the pains that might be lightened
 Every hour and every day
If we would but hear the pleadings
 Of the hearts that go astray!

Let us step outside the stronghold
 Of our selfishness and pride.
Let us lift our fainting brothers,
 Let us strengthen ere we chide.
Let us, ere we blame the fallen,
 Hold a light to cheer and guide.

Ah, how blessed! Ah, how blessed
 Earth would be if we'd but try
Thus to aid and right the weaker,
 Thus to check each brother's sigh,
Thus to talk of duty's pathway
 To our better life on high.

In each life, however lowly,
 There are seeds of mighty good.
Still we shrink from souls appealing
 With a timid, "If we could!"
But the God who judges all things
 Knows the truth is, "If we would!"

A SAFETY DEVICE

Which Will Prevent Railway Collisions.

More Effective in Awaking the Engineer Than a Stone Through the Cab Window—Local Gossip.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—A very ingenious and valuable contrivance for the saving of life by preventing railroad accidents through the forgetfulness of trainmen has been invented. The machine has just stood a very severe test on the Great Northern railway after having been previously operated successfully on the St. Paul and Duluth road. Practical railroad men in this section have given strong endorsements to the device after seeing its work. The object of the device is to provide an accurate and reliable reminder signal and distance indicator for locomotives, by means of which engineers are prevented from forgetting their train orders as to stopping or meeting points. The mechanism is simply but positively connected with the forward trucks of the engine, thereby accurately measuring the distance traveled, the disk placed in front of the engineer showing correctly the distance traveled. Above the dial are placed fifteen triggers or dogs, pivoted at equal distances around the centre.

When the engineer receives his orders he sets one or more of these triggers to a point one mile short of the distance to be traveled before reaching the stopping place. The mileage indicated, on reaching such point, releases the trigger, which starts a signal whistle blowing. This continues to blow for one quarter of a mile, promptly warning the engineer of the near approach to stopping place. If the engineer is inattentive and fails to stop when this last mile has been run over, the machine sets the air brake and stops the train for him. A train similarly equipped, coming in the opposite direction, would be stopped in the same manner and a collision prevented. The device can be made to run forward and backward. For foggy or storming weather or for dark nights the device is considered especially valuable for ordinary road men, although its life saving feature was the point at first sought for.

After a trial on the St. Paul and Duluth and repeated trials on the Fergus Falls division of the Great Northern, the new invention was given an unusual test on the recent trip of President J. J. Hill to the coast and back.

For this trip the new scheme of one engine, No. 613, with Engineer John Kilbane, for the entire trip was tried and the new life-saving device was on the engine. For the 1,820 miles to Seattle, on the Great Northern, 187 to Portland on the Northern Pacific, 450 to Spokane on the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, and through Montana and back to St. Paul, the device measured all distances with accuracy and by other tests completely demonstrated its ability to do all claimed for it.

President Hill has approved it with considerable enthusiasm, as have other officials on his road. During the past few months this new device has been used successfully on over 7,000 miles of road. A peculiar feature of the test is the fact that it has been made with the inventor's working model.

A GOOD SHOWING.

The local Pennsylvania ticket office did an immense business the past two months. The August sales exceeded those of any other month since the world's fair, while the sales during the month of September showed an increase of 33⅓ per cent. over the same period of last year. October promises to yield a heavy business also, judging from the inquiries being made at the office by prospective travelers. This heavy traffic, not only in the passenger line, but in the freight service, is sure to bear fruit in the shape of more work in the shops and a corresponding increase in the amount of money distributed among our workmen. In fact there is already an improvement in that direction, for every department of the great works is now running ten hours per day, with a fair prospect of continuing on that schedule the balance of the year. No more men are being hired, however, and it will be a waste of time for persons out of employment to apply there for work.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

Switchman Erdel, of the east yards, is taking a vacation.

Foreman Joseph Slater has gone to Milwaukee on business for the Bass works.

S. H. Meyers, a brakeman on the west end of the Pittsburg, is sick and off duty.

Conductor H. Greenlum, of the Pittsburg, is taking a lay off to attend to some private business.

John Bronnekan, a fireman of a yard engine at Stony Island, is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. H. Noll.

Wabash engines 201 and 58 have been turned over to active service, after undergoing general repairs.

James Roche, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is sick and was unable to report for duty this morning.

Thus Kucher, the stenographer in A. H. [illegible] office, is again seriously affected with catarrhal troubles.

D. Thiele has taken his old place in the Pittsburg planing mills, after an illness which disabled him nearly six months.

W. S. Lincoln, chief engineer of the Wabash lines, now ranks as one of the oldest men in time of service on western lines.

For awhile Conductor Overholser will make Bellevue, Ohio, his headquarters. He is employed on the Nickel Plate road.

The Pennsylvania's big train, which left this city this morning, had eighty five box cars, nearly all of which were loaded.

Fred Foss, a laborer employed in the Nickel Plate round house, has taken a week's vacation which he will spend in the country.

Peter Noll, a painter who has been sick since last July, has recovered and this morning resumed his old place in the Pittsburg shops.

Benjamin Boyce, the engineer at the Bass blacksmith shop, is on the sick list and Daniel Quinn is performing the duties of that office.

Conductor John Sloan, of the Pittsburg, has returned from Fredericksburg, Ohio, where he attended the funeral of his mother.

The new steel rails now being put down to replace defective ones on the Pittsburg road are sixty feet long and weigh 1,700 pounds each.

There were two sections of Nickel Plate train No 5 last night. The occasion for this was a party of tourists en route to the Pacific coast.

At the present rate the Wabash line will this year earn in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 additional to its operating expenses and fixed charges.

Mrs William O. Comer, wife of the Grand Rapids trainman, has returned from Portland, Ind., where she spent several weeks with her relatives.

N. C. McKinney, the Pennsylvania lineman, has resumed his duties after a ten days' vacation, most of which was spent at his old home in Ohio.

Mrs. T. R. Stapleford, wife of the trimmer at the Pittsburg shops, has gone to Bucyrus, Ohio, in answer to a telegram telling her of the serious illness of one of her relatives.

The loss to the Pennsylvania company by the wreck at Kosciusko is variously estimated at from $15,000 to $30,000. The former figure is probably near the correct amount.

John Porter, the veteran pattern-maker at the Pittsburg shops, has recovered from an illness which kept him from his work three months. He resumed work this morning.

A quail created some excitement among the occupants of one of the rooms at the electric works this morning by coming in the window and flying frantically about for awhile. It was caught and given its freedom.

An 8,000-light dynamo, one of the largest made in this country, left the electric works today for Denver, Col., where it will be added to the equipment of the extensive plant of the Denver Electric company. It required two cars to transport this immense machine.

Ed Crosby, a machinist employed at the Wabash shops, received a bad cut over the right eye yesterday, though the injury does not prevent him from working. He was being assisted by Nate Murphy in removing a side rod from an engine, when the lever in his companion's hands slipped and the end struck Ed with the foregoing results.

A special train bearing Third Vice President Joseph Wood, of the Pennsylvania, passed through this city yesterday afternoon. It left Chicago at 10:37 in the morning and reached Crestline at [illegible] in the afternoon, covering the 280 miles in five hours and fifty minutes. There were four stops west of Fort Wayne and two east, which, deducted from the time consumed in making the trip, shows that the actual running time was not so slow.

The Monon will use the Kentucky and Indiana bridge for entrance to Louisville for its passenger trains by November 1. The freight service is now all via the new bridge.

The Detroit, Toledo and Milwaukee has also adopted the per diem method of paying its enginemen, the new rule going into effect today. It is virtually a reduction of wages of from 10 to 25 per cent.

John Swan, ex-postmaster of Allegheny City, who died last Sunday, planned and built the shops of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road at Fort Wayne and later shops for two or three Ohio roads.

The Nickel Plate is anticipating a big crowd to Chicago on its Sunday excursion and will have extra coaches handy in case there is a demand for them. Bad weather will doubtless put a stop to these excursions before many weeks.

Miss Clara Perry, of Erie street, had a finger mangled at the Wayne Knitting mills late yesterday afternoon. A door slammed upon the young lady's hand, causing the injury. Dr. George C. Stemen was called to dress the wounded member.

Thomas H. Hibbins and his corps of assistants will commence the task of setting up the stoves in the Pennsylvania depots and warehouses next Monday. This is a considerable job, as the territory covered by the men extends from Crestline to Chicago.

A special train bearing 150 farmers from the central and southern part of the state passed through this city last night. It was the annual excursion gotten up by the Vandalia, and the party was made up of residents of Hoosierdom who are Buckeyes by birth.

The Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railroad company are taking steps to make Rosedale, Kas., a very important division point. They will at once put in fourteen miles of side track and have asked the authorities of Rosedale to vacate certain streets to give ground on which to erect new shops and a roundhouse.

The Pennsylvania company is preparing to haul a big crowd to Chicago next Sunday. The excursion has been well advertised and from the inquiries being made at the ticket office concerning the matter, the local officials are led to believe that the attendance on this occasion will exceed that of any of the other Sunday excursions.

Charles Stone, general passenger agent of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, is to be the host of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents when they go to Nashville for their annual meeting, which begins October 12. He has offered a special train to the members and their families. It will leave Chicago on the evening of October 11.

William A. Reese, one of the most popular young men in the shops of the Wabash, has resigned and will soon leave for the gold fields of the Klondike. He will not go to that country to prospect for gold, but to work at his trade. Mr. Reese is a fine mechanic and his services in the mining country will surely be in great demand. The Wabash shop officials and employes express regret that the young man has decided to leave them.

It is said that the Great Southern railway will make a strong effort to get control of the Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvington and Beattyville road, which will be sold October 11. The southern people will, it is said, not only extend the road through to Cumberland Gap, giving them a direct route between Louisville and the seaboard, but build a branch up Station Camp Creek to develop the rich cannel coal deposits and timber areas in Owsley and Jackson counties.

The Kansas City and Northern Connecting railway, which is a part of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf system, has been completed between Kansas City and Smithville, Mo. It was opened for traffic Monday, both freight and passenger trains passing over it. The line from Smithville to Pattonsburg will be completed by December 15, it is reported connecting at the latter point with the Omaha, Kansas City and Quincy, belonging to the same syndicate. Then through trains will be run from Omaha and Quincy, Ill., to Port Arthur by way of Kansas City.

LOOKS DOWN ON US.

Fort Wayne Has a Giant Visitor Today.

He is Col. A. A. Powell, Formerly of Barnum's Show, Now a Traveling Salesman Out of Cincinnati.

The tallest drummer that ever touched his foot on Fort Wayne soil is here today. He is Col. A. A. Powell, who represents the toilet soap manufacturing establishment of Jergens & Co., Cincinnati. Colonel Powell measures in his stockings seven feet, two and a half inches, and when he walks along the street he makes the rest of humanity feel that they ain't much, after all. When the colonel goes to a hotel to sleep the porters have to arrange his bed on the floor with two mattresses, and when he goes through the doors he is obliged to stoop in order to avoid knocking the casing out of joint. He says that he never had to look up to but one man, that was Chang, the Chinese giant, who beats him a little in stature. Colonel Powell used to travel with Barnum's show, but says that there is more money and comfort in traveling for a soap house.

KNOCKED OUT.

Martin Defeated in Two Rounds by Hardenbrook at Kendallville.

A number of Fort Wayne sports went to Kendallville last night to witness a matched fight between Verne Hardenbrook, of Walkerton, Ind., and Charles Martin, of South Chicago. The fight was pulled off in the fair grounds and there was no interference from the officers who were present as spectators. Hardenbrook weighed in at 152 pounds and Martin at 190. The contest was brief and vigorous. In the second round Hardenbrook sent his man to the ropes with a terrific uppercut on the jaw and that was the end of the fight. The men fought a ten-round draw two years ago. Hardenbrook has won repeated matches in the past three years and claims the heavyweight championship of the state.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 1.—Len Agnew met defeat last night in his contest with Henry Spanjer, a recently graduated amateur. Spanjer forced the fight from the start. The eighth round found Agnew so weak that he could not deliver a blow and Referee Sullivan stopped the mill in the middle of the round, declaring Spanjer the winner. The men weighed in at 133 pounds each.

WITH A SMALL CALIBER.

A Militia Officer Tells of a Rifle Overcoming a Great Lion.

Some one in the group of militiamen had been showing a target perforated at a mile by a bullet so small as almost to appear ridiculous.

"And yet," said a veteran who had seen service, "I know an instance of a lion being killed with one of these small cat rifles shooting a B cartridge. About all they are good for, you know, is to shoot sparrows with."

"A very commendable use, if they are those nasty English sparrows," ventured some one, whose sentiment was unanimously applauded.

"True enough," continued the narrator. "But to the lion part of my story. A dozen or more years ago I had a gang of men at work blasting rock in a railroad cut to shorten a line. We were near a town, and to this town came a circus with wild animals, including a lion which was notorious for his ugly temper and his size. Of course a parade was part of the show, and I had given my men two hours or so off to go and see it. They were accompanied by my 14-year-old boy, who left his gun, one of those cat rifles I have mentioned, with me. I had my office in a shack near the cut, and here I was busy on an engineering problem after the camp was deserted by my force.

"As I sat in the shack, with its sides open, hard at work, about an hour after the crowd had gone, I was disturbed by the sudden yelp of a small dog we had with us, followed immediately by a growl that sounded like thunder. I looked up and, to my surprise and fear, I saw, not 50 yards away, a great yellow beast with half the dog in his mouth. I thought at once of the bad circus lion and was sure that he had escaped in some way, and that nobody knew where he was, except myself, and that I was going to have a scrap with him unless I could escape.

"This I tried to do, but the lion saw me and at once came my way, at first with bounds and then creeping as a cat does. The thing now for me to do was to defend myself, but there was absolutely nothing I could use except my boy's rifle, and that was so small it made me laugh to think of training it on a lion. However, it was all I had, and I took it up and waited, with a half hope that I might land the small bullet in his eye and disable him for a few minutes, anyhow.

"Slowly he came toward me, and as he crept nearer I noticed that he had got a dynamite cartridge fastened to his foot by a snap we were using on some of them in some experiments we were making. Some careless workman had left the cartridge, and this snap had evidently caught to the hair on the beast's foot, and he was dragging it along with him. As I noticed this I remembered that one entire end of it was like a big percussion cap, and I wondered if I couldn't shoot my little bullet and hit that part of the cartridge. It was my only chance, and one in 1,000,000, and, dropping behind a heavy chest in the shack, I sighted for the cartridge and waited for the lion to come close enough to better my chances and at the same time not get too close in case I hit the cartridge.

"Well, he kept coming until he wasn't 20 feet away, and then I let her go. She snapped like popping an inflated rose leaf on the back of a fair lady's hand, but in an instant I went over backward, there was a tremendous explosion, and I didn't know any more till a crowd of people woke me up and asked me what the matter was. They said the lion had escaped, and while looking for it they had heard the explosion and had run over to see what it was. Fifteen minutes later I had gathered myself together sufficiently to tell them what had happened, and when one of the circus men found a bunch of hair like a whitewash brush on top of my shack he identified it as the end of the lion's tail. That's about all there was left of him, too, but I don't want to shoot any more lions with cat rifles, I'm telling you."—Washington Star.

Fruit.

All dietists agree as to the healthful value of fruit, differing only in opinion as to time and method of serving it. Authorities admit that fruit alone will not sustain life for a prolonged period, but its use is almost indispensable to the maintenance of health. Professor Elliott thinks that ripe fruit as a rule is more palatable and equally nutritious in the uncooked state. The proper time, too, to eat fruit, he advises, is either at the beginning of a meal or between meals, when it aids digestion and exerts the greatest laxative effect. Taken at the completion of a meal, it dilutes the gastric juice and tends to embarrass digestion. This idea is not in accordance with the English custom, it being an almost national practice over there to serve fruit at the end of the meal.—New York Post.

Antiquity of Albany.

Few persons there are who think of the city of Albany as the oldest surviving European settlement in the 13 original states. A local historian, however, claims that distinction for the state capital. Albany was founded in 1614 by the building of a substantial house by the fur traders on the island below the present city. A stockade and a moat surrounded the fur traders' house, which was garrisoned by 12 men whose equipment comprised 12 stone guns and one cannon. Three years later a fort was erected on the hill near the Normanskill, or First Kill, which was the name it then bore.

The West Indian Trading company constructed a rude fort in 1623 and gave it the name of Fort Orange. The settlement grew slowly, and in 1630 a larger number of colonists arrived at Rensselaerswyck, then a domain 48 miles broad, which extended 24 miles on each side of the river, and was apportioned under the patroon system. The settlement was known as Beverwyck in [illegible], and subsequently the name was changed to Williamstadt and the place assumed importance as the center of the fur trade in North America. The English obtained possession of the city in 1664 and very soon afterward gave the place its present name in honor of the Duke of York and Albany. In 1797 the city became the capital of the state.—New York Times.

Worked the Mistress.

Here is a good story of the dangers of giving gratuitous information. A servant wounded her hand with the prong of a fork. In reply to her mistress' inquiries she explained that she was very nervous lest the wound should become inflamed, as she believed the fork to be nickel plated.

"Oh, you may set your mind at ease on that score!" replied the mistress. "Those forks are all silver."

The next morning forks and servant were missing.—Strand Magazine.

This becomes necessary on account of replacing a defective pipe near the county asylum, in this county, and consumers are cautioned to be sure and have all valves closed and all lights turned out until gas returns.

They are also especially cautioned to close all water heater valves, boilers and furnaces in stores and shops that are usually kept burning over night, the evening before to prevent it being neglected Sunday morning.

Special attention is also called in lighting the fire when gas returns in case air has got into the pipes, to observe the same and keep light on it until all the air is thoroughly cleared out and fire burns continuously. 112
